MASQUERADE BALL

The I.O.O.F. Hall, Vulcan, has been the scene of some brilliant masquerade balls and other social events, but never in the history of the town was there such a successful event as the Masquerade Ball under the auspices of the Vulcan Citizens' Band, held on Friday evening last, when the large dance room was crowded by costumed ladies and gentlemen from all parts of the districts between Aldersyde and Lethbridge. It was truly a wonderful sight to see the motley crowd mingling with one another and the splendid costumes, which ranged from the time of Charles 1st down to the present day, were very becoming to the wearers and each person taking part seemed to have impersonated the character that suited them the best. The inevitable harlequin was there in all his glory and well represented and the capers of these gentlemen went to show they were past masters in the art of fun making and kept the crowd in an hilarious condition the whole of the evening. No occasion of this kind would be complete if not represented by the tramp and he also was there dressed up to kill and so true to the role of the individual that he was the one observed by all observers. The usual cowboy and Indian characters which are generally to the fore at these events were conspicuous by their absence and this was a little surprising as no gathering of this kind seems right without them.

Dancing, which was billed to start at 8 o'clock, started soon after that time and shortly after the large hall was rapidly filled until a crowd of about one hundred and fifty people in costume were tripping the light fantastic to the strains of the music of one of the best orchestras which could be engaged for the occasion. These numbers were augmented by spectators to the number of about one hundred and it might truly be said the crowd was the largest ever assembled in the hall. At eleven o'clock dancing was called off and the grand parade announced. This gave one the opportunity of getting a better view of the costumes and there being so many apparently of the same high standard, one's thoughts immediately to the judges and the arduous task they had to perform in awarding the prizes to the satisfaction of all concerned. Some considerable time elapsed before the winners were decided on as it was found that both the best dressed lady and best dressed gentleman had very close seconds, so much so that the winners could only be decided on by the tossing of a coin, therefore the winners of these two classes got the prize only by a stroke of luck.

Supper, which was provided by the ladies of town, was served in the basement at twelve o'clock and a hungry crowd soon disposed of the majority of the good things provided and many were the complimentary remarks to be heard on all sides on the culinary art of the good people who contributed toward this important part of the evening's entertainment. After all had satisfied themselves along this line dancing was again resumed and kept up with a swing until about two-thirty a.m., when everyone left for their respective homes, bringing to an end the best time ever experienced in Vulcan.

Following are the prize winners:
Best Dressed Lady—Mrs. Jacques, as an Old Fashioned Lady.
Best Dressed Gentleman—Mr. Gibson, as Robin Hood.
Best Lady Comic—Mrs. Seever, as a Jester.
Best Gent Comic—Mr. Dowling, as a Tramp.
Most Original Ladies—Mrs. Kehl, as an Eastern Lady.
Most Original Gents—Mr. Denbigh, as a Canibal.
Most Original Couple—Miss May Bennett and Mr. Thomas Logan, as Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Hicks from Hickville.

COURT NEWS

At the Provincial Police Court, on Friday, February 18th, John Douglas, of near Champion, appeared before Justice of the Peace J. A. Lindsay, charged with doing wilful damage to a fence on the farm of Mr. V. C. Cole, one and a half miles from town. It appears that Douglas, who drives a truck for the Blusson mine, was proceeding along the trail when he came upon a snow drift through which he thought he could not negotiate safely. The safest way to him seemed to be through the fence so through he went head on with his five ton truck, proceeded along the field for about a quarter of a mile and then broke through again on to the trail. This sort of conduct on the part of Douglas caused considerable trouble and inconvenience to the owner of the farm by his cattle and horses straying through the gaps in the fence and he accordingly laid information against the offender. Douglas admitted the offense and said that he afterwards tried to get in touch with Mr. Cole, but for some reason he was unable to do so. His Worship found the defendant guilty of doing damage to the fence and fined him $1.00 and cost of court and also ordered him to pay $10.00 damages.

COMMUNITY CLUB DEBATE

The Community Club swung into line again with a splendid debate last Thursday, and what is to the everlasting credit of the town, a good attendance and attention was given. The subject was, "Resolved that Canada should own its Railways." Messrs. Stuart and Elves supported the affirmative, while Messrs. Wheeler and Colwell took the negative. The decision was awarded to the former, but this does not mean that government ownership will take place for awhile yet. While the judges were making up their minds as to which side won, the chairman, Mr. Charters threw the meeting open to the people and many availed themselves of the opportunity to speak. Heretofore, when speakers have been with us, there has been little or no opportunity for the developing of local talent of the oratorical kind and these mid-month meetings fill such a need. It does us good to "agitate the ether" and attempt to express those earth-shaking thoughts that we have nourished, for lo, these many months or years. We have more ability in our midst that we as yet are aware of.

Mr. Shears sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Gooch. The judges were, Mr. Johnston, Miss Wylie and Mr. Lindsay.

DEATH OF J. HERRIGAN

The death of Mr. Jerry Herrigan, a well known farmer of the Vulcan district, took place on Monday, February 21st, at his home near town, from cancer of the stomach. The deceased was 64 years of age and came to Alberta from Belleville, Ontario, about three years ago, during which time he has made many friends in the district, who, with his wife and three children, mourn his loss.

COMMUNITY CLUB ADDRESS

An address by E. A. Howes, B.S.A., Dean of the Faculty, Department of Agriculture, University of Alberta, will be given before the members of the Community Club and the general public at the I.O.O.F. Hall, on Thursday evening, February 24th, at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

FOR SERVICE RENDERED

Mrs. Steve Forrester recently received from the authorities at Ottawa a silver cross in memory of her son, Wm. F. Forrester, who died from influenza at the Sarcee Camp, Calgary, on November 11th, 1918, the same day that the Armistice was signed. The cross, which is deeply appreciated and valued by Mrs. Forrester, was accompanied by a card bearing the following message: "This cross is sent to you in memory of one who joined in the Great War and died for King and Country."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buck left on Saturday for High River, where they spent the week end visiting with relatives and friends.

ENSIGN NEWS

Despite the cold weather, there was quite a good crowd of people to hear Mr. A. Mitchell, of the Canadian Forestry Association, on his visit to Ensign. Mr. Mitchell gave an illustrated lecture on home planning and tree planting. Mr. Mitchell was speaking under the auspices of the local U. F. A. This was the record number at their chautauqua and the third will be on March 4th when the Rev. Father Beau-ollet will give a lecture on his experiences in the trenches. Next Friday, February 25, the U. F. A. is holding a whist drive and dance in the hall. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McIntyre have returned home after spending most of the winter in Oregon. Welcome back Dan.

MUNICIPALITY OF MARQUIS No. 157

The Annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Municipality of Marquis, and the nomination for Councillors was held at Lake McGregor School house, on Monday, February 21st. Notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the roads, ratepayers to the number of about 200 were in attendance. Promptly at 1 o'clock Mr. E. Beckner was appointed Chairman and Mr. P. J. Haslam, Secretary of the meeting.

The Chairman called upon Reeve Sinclair, who read the Auditor's Report and financial statement, explaining sundry items and answering several questions asked by the ratepayers.

Each member of the council was called on in turn to give a statement of the monies expended by him on the roads. In beginning his report Reeve Sinclair stated that owing to the unusually high water of the spring floods of 1920, a very large additional expenditure was necessary on Snake Creek and the East Arrowood. In his division he reported 16 miles of grading and several bills.

Councillor Shoullice in his humorous way gave an account of the work he had done and the cost of same and regretted that he had not been allowed to spend more money as the roads in his district were still sadly in need of more work.

Councillor Rowe reported that the repairs that were absolutely necessary caused him to exceed his appropriation for road work, but he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had got good value for every dollar.

The Chairman then called on Councillor Spanke who said that on account of the difficulty in securing labor at the proper time he had not done much work and was pleased to say he kept his expenditures within bounds.

Mr. R. H. Shore stated that he didn't realize that it was possible for him to over spend his appropriation until he was rudely restrained by the Council from making any further expenditures.

The Auditor's report and financial statement were then approved by the meeting after which a resolution moved by Mr. Wainwright was passed recommending the incoming council to consider the advisability of having one road supervisor and one crew look after all the road work in the Municipality.

The Returning officer then called for nominations for councillors for 1921. The following were duly nominated: R. N. Broderick, N. S. Campbell, James Phelan, James Shoullice, Donald Sinclair, Herman Spanke, Milton H. Ward, Steve Williams, Paul Norton, and F. A. Wallace. The last two afterwards withdrew, leaving twelve candidates in the running for four positions.

GRAND CONCERT

On another page will be found an Advt. for the Vocal and Instrumental Concert, to be put on by the Vulcan Church senior and juvenile choirs, assisted by other well known local talent, in the Opera House on Friday evening, March 4th. A perusal of the program to be given by this popular organization will show that it is a good one and has been carefully prepared to meet the needs of the people along this line. The object of the concert is to raise money with which to buy music to carry on the good work of the choir in the church, so by patronizing them on this occasion you will not only get a real treat for one evening, but you will be doing your share in helping to provide music to be rendered at each evening service at the church for your benefit as well as the rest of the people of town and district. The charge for admission to this musical treat is only 50c, for adults and 25c. for children, and as this charge is within the reach of all a capacity house is looked for on the rise of the curtain. So do not fail to attend and bring all the family, it will do you all good to hear one of the best musical treats of the season and you will also have the satisfaction of knowing that you are supporting your home talent.

RED CROSS WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Red Cross Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. G. Peterson on Thursday, February 16th. The business discussed included a whist drive to be held on March 4th and a Masquerade Dance for the 18th of March. It was also decided that the dishes which the Institute recently purchased would be open for entertainments in the schoolhouse. Mrs. Johnstone was there to start her dress making class and for awhile scissors were very busy. A delightful lunch was then served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Stager's, and lady visitors will be heartily welcome.

BIG ADDITION TO FACTORY

Dodge Brothers Prove Confidence in Future by $6,000,000 Expansion.
Floor Area Grows from 8 to Over 100 Square Acres in Six Years.

Substantial evidence of Dodge Brothers confidence in the future is to be found in the expenditure of between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 for the expansion of their factory. The present building program is the largest in their history, and will bring the total floor space of the plant up to more than 100 square acres. In 1914, when production of Dodge Brothers motor car began the total floor space was about 8 square acres.

The principal unit of the construction program now in progress is the new press steel building, with a floor area of 860,000 square feet. The new construction building, which has just been completed, is eight stories high and has a floor area of 140,366 square feet. Another important unit now being built is the new power plant.

With the gradual expansion of the factory the interplant traffic problem became one of prime importance. The distance between the main building and Plant 4 is nearly a mile, and until recently it was necessary to cross 12 railroad tracks to reach it. This problem was solved by the simple but costly expedient of digging a tunnel. Now factory traffic cuts off half the distance and passes under the 12 tracks instead of over them. The tunnel is a good example of the efficiency measures always being introduced at Dodge Brothers factory, which has the reputation among authorities of being one of the most thoroughly equipped and best managed factories in the world.

When the present building operations are completed others will probably begin. There is nearly always something in progress. The maximum production attained so far was an average of about 600 cars a day, but this will be materially increased by the extra facilities now being provided.

For further information see Bill Herman, the local agent.

CHURCH NEWS

It looks as if we had a church in our midst, despite the criticisms of the unsympathetic. Sunday evening the congregation occupied nearly every available seat. The choir rendered an appropriate anthem-sole and the sermon was of the usual Gospel type that goes home to the hearts of people. The minister based his theme on the third chapter of St. John, dealing with the night interview that Nicodemus had with Christ, regarding the Kingdom of God. Nicodemus, the minister said, belonged to the Sanhedrin, and was one of the prominent men of that organization known as the pharisees. At the feast of the passover, Jesus came to Jerusalem and drove out of the temple; those money-changers that were making the place a den of thieves. This act of His was a stern rebuke to the Pharisees and they secretly resolved to attack Jesus and Nicodemus, it will be remembered was a member of that sect. Being of an inquiring mind he goes one night to talk with Jesus and in the interview he is told that there is only one way to enter the kingdom, namely, to repent of one's sins and be baptized. Nicodemus remembers that this is the same thing that John the Baptist said, and when he heard John preach he was almost willing to cast his lot in with John, but if he did so he would lose his position as ruler of the Jews and he hadn't the courage to stand by his convictions, and thus he lost his first chance. When he had the interview with Jesus, a second chance was given him, but he let this slip.

God is always willing to give a man another chance and how strange is His ways with men! Nicodemus did not think that his party would ever go so far as to crucify Jesus and Nicodemus therefore did not think that things would reach such a tragic state, but when the news was brought him, all the cowardice of his nature gave way to courage and Nicodemus comes out before all the world and declares where he stands. Of all the people that Jesus helped and healed, not one came forward to claim his body as it was taken from the Cross. Were it not for Nicodemus and one called Joseph, the body of Jesus might have been cast away like the bodies of the two thieves. It is the scene on the Cross that makes men lose their cowardice and come out and declare where they stand. No man can keep a scene

THE CARPENTER AND COLLEGE GRADUATES

A Dramatic After-Dinner Speech at a London Banquet By a Man Who Never Made a Speech, on the Failure of Education to Educate.

Does education educate? This pointed question was asked and answered under singular circumstances at a banquet recently held in London,

Eng. A man who had never made a speech in his life addressed a gathering of college graduates, and he made a hit. The article dealing with this was published from the pen of Alexander Irvine in The Teachers' World, and reprinted in Public Opinion. It is as follows:

"About one hundred and fifty students who had just received their degrees met for a final dinner, before they separated to go into various parts of the world, probably never to meet again. They had been so surfeited with dignified drivel during the four years at college that they decided to omit the address at the final function.

"Of two hundred professors there was one man whose criticism of college addresses was well known. He had never made an address in his life, and it was suggested, more as a joke than with any serious intent, to invite him to deliver the address. If they had imagined for a moment that he would accept the invitation he never would have been asked. He accepted, however, and the committee decided to let the class grin and bear it.

A Luxurious Setting.

"The dinner took place in one of the world's greatest hotels. The banquet hall was known far and wide for its artistic arrangements and luxurious furniture. The young men were dressed in conventional full evening dress. Most of them were future captains of industry. During the course of the dinner there was a good deal of joking and some speculation about the professor's address. When the dinner was over the Chairman rapped for order and introduced the speaker.

"Gentlemen," he began, "I never made a speech in my life, and I don't intend to begin now. I have something to say, however, and in saying it I will follow Luther's three-fold rule: 'Stand up straightly, speak out boldly, and sit down quickly.'"

"We are in one of the famous banquet halls of the world. Belshazzar's hall compared to this was a lodging on the third floor back. No such art existed in those days as we see around this room. No such viands graced his board. What there was there was elegant for that day, but we live in another age, an age of art, craftsmanship and luxury. From the four corners of the earth came the things on this table. From the lowest forms of day labor to the highest forms of art we have around us samples of at least a hundred forms of human work.

"Take this tablecloth, to begin with. It is of most exquisite workmanship. It involves weaving—to go no farther back—bleaching, smoothing, designing. It is a damask linen, beautiful and most pleasing to the eye. I want to ask you a question: Is there anyone here who knows from personal experience anything about the labor involved? Have any of you ever contributed any labor to the manufacturing of table linen? I am serious, gentlemen. If any of you have, I would like him to say so. There was absolute silence. 'I understand, then,' he continued, 'that the making of such a thing is beyond your ken.

Aliens to Pottery.

"Let me draw your attention to the samples of pottery here. Surely the men and women who produce such beautiful things are artists. What a joy it must be for a man to hold such a thing in his hand—complete—and say, 'I made it!' Many forms of labor are involved here, also—the digging of clay, the carting, fashioning, painting, burning, baking and finishing. If there is a man here who has ever touched this form of labor, let him answer. No one!

"There are samples of the most exquisite, and, I know, costly, cut glass. That also involves much labor and great art. It is a unique industry in itself. I will not detail the process; we see the result, but the various forms of labor involved are practically unknown to us. I would be rather surprised to find a man among you who had ever touched this industry at any angle.

"In this way he went over the silver and dwelt rather lengthily on the subject of mining and the life of a miner. Nothing escaped his notice. He drew attention to the carpet and rugs on the floor, to the curtains and drapery of the great windows, to the mural decorations, executed by the greatest living mural painter. There was a rich fresco around the room. He called attention to it. When he had gone over most of the things in the room he turned again to the table.

"There are cut flowers here," he said. 'Most of you spent some year in the study of botany, but I don't think any of you would undertake to give us a complete classification of what we see and enjoy on the table.' There was a disposition to laugh, but he wiped the smile from every face around the table by quietly saying, 'Perhaps you are to be congratulated that you are at an age when a sense of humor covers a multitude of sins, but personally I cannot enjoy that which gives me pain.

The Motive of Education.

"I am a representative university man, seriously asking myself and you whether the system we call education educates.' The silence became oppressive. The men were thinking.

"Perhaps," he continued, 'I should have put you more at ease by telling you at the beginning that I have never experienced the joy of fashioning articles with my own hands. Here we are, then, a group of men on whom a university has set its stamp. We produce nothing we eat, we could not even lend a hand in the making of anything we see around us, and truth compels me to venture the suggestion that in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the chief motive of a college education is to escape actual participation in just such work as gives or ought to give joy to the worker.'

"A timekeeper performs a useful function, so does a cash register, but the function of education is not to turn out timekeepers or cash registers. It has been truly said that if ten Bachelors of Art were wrecked in mid-ocean they could not build a pontoon to save their lives! They would be equally helpless in any critical emergency where practical knowledge of the ordinary things around us was imperatively necessary. A statement of the problem is not a solution, and we do not gain much by stating that the system is to blame and we are not.

"You certainly are not to blame. You are the victims of whatever system we have. I cannot say that I am blameless. I do not believe that a smattering of languages, of mathematics, and history is education. I believe the system of cramming these things to pass an examination is pernicious. So having been asked for the first time in my life to make an address, I made it an opportunity to enter my protest.

The Purpose of Education

"Education is to prepare and equip for the duties and responsibilities of life—not to turn out industrial and commercial bosses, gaffers, time-keepers and cash registers. I would hardly be justified in taking up your time with these observations alone. So, in addition, I want to say this: Most of you are destined to be masters of men. You will organize and mobilize their labor, you will oversee it.

"When you see men around you actually creating beautiful things with their hands, I would like you to remember that it was my opinion that actual labor in the arts and crafts and industries is an infinitely nobler contribution to the happiness of mankind than clipping coupons and living on the sweat of other men's brows.

"It will not come in our day, but the world will ultimately come to understand that the training of the mind is as necessary as the training of the body. Why should it be considered an unthinkable thing that a blacksmith or a carpenter should need an education? Why should college men consider it degrading to handle tools and make useful and beautiful things?

"Why should a university perpetuate such a revolt against Nature in which the man who does no useful work at all is considered a gentleman, and the creator of wealth and beautiful things should be considered low caste, in Anglo-Saxon civilization?

"I want to point out to you that the highest form of culture and refinement known to mankind was ultimately associated with tools and labor. In order to do that I must present to you a picture, imaginative but in accord with the facts of history and experience."

A Dramatic Conclusion.

"He pushed back his chair, and stood a few feet from the table. His face betrayed deep emotion. His voice became wonderfully soft and irresistibly appealing. The college men had been interested; they were now spellbound. He raised his hand, and went through the motions of drawing aside a curtain.

"Gentlemen, he said, 'may I introduce to you a young Galilean who is a master-builder—Jesus of Nazareth'.

"It was a weird act. The silence became oppressive. As if addressing an actual person of flesh and blood he continued:

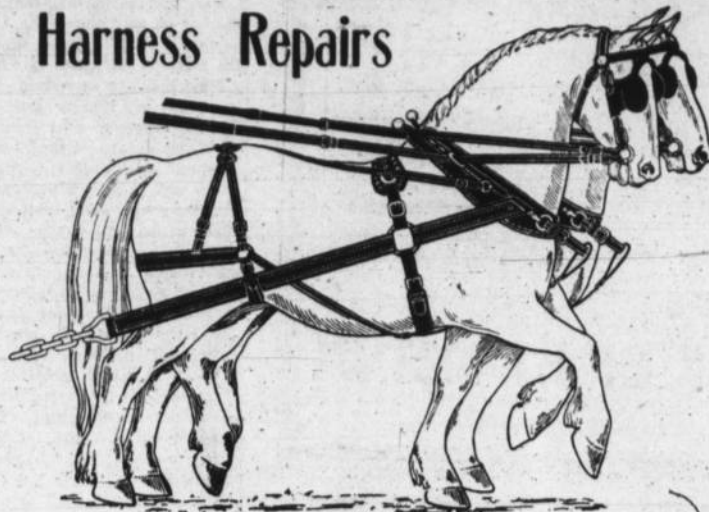

"Master, may I ask you, as I asked these young men, whether there is anything in this room that you could make with your hands as other men make them?"

"There was a pause, a brief moment or two, then with the slow measured stride of the Oriental he went to the end of the table and took the tablecloth in his hand, and made bare the corner and carved oak leg of the great table. In that position he looked into the faces of the men and said: 'The Master says, "Yes, I could make the table—I am a Carpenter!"'

OUR GREAT RESOURCES

The new oil regulations are very much fairer than had been anticipated by a great many people, according to Professor John Allen, of the University of Alberta, who has been visiting his brothers at High River. Commenting on the regulations Professor Allen said:

"The new regulations will encourage development along more satisfactory lines and of a more permanent kind. It is true that leases in the region of the Lower Mackenzie will have to be proved up by persons taking them up, and that the government reserves a very large portion. However, especially in these times, we must remember that there is a national debt to pay off, and that the country may be placed upon a strong footing, it must expect to obtain revenue from the natural resources."

"It would be folly to expect the development of the country's mineral resources without a fair share of the results going to the funds required for the upkeep of the country at large," added Professor Allen. "The new regulations will encourage, rather than discourage development, and I do not think that the individual who wants to file on an oil lease has any complaint against them."

Professor Allen is of the opinion that the strike at Fort Norman will also encourage development in the more accessible areas of Alberta, and he looks to a more energetic and extensive working of the nearer regions. "In considering the possible oil basins of the far north, we must not forget the possibilities that exist throughout the whole of the province of Alberta," he said.

"A great deal of ridiculous, misleading and untruthful information regarding oil and minerals in Alberta is being given out by parties who assume the roles of geologists or mining engineers and who in certain cases, are in no way qualified to carry on those duties," Professor Allen said.

"With reference to the Pouce Coupe country," said Professor Allen, "the press have printed interviews stating that the geological structure in that country was particularly fine for oil accumulation, these facts having been backed up by a so-called mining engineer and geologist, by the name of J. Hughes. It so happens that I know Mr. Hughes personally and I do not believe him responsible for the interview, as he had no technical training, but previously held a position in a tobacco store in Edmonton. There has been no survey made of the Pouce Coupe country by the Dominion Geological Survey."

"It is reported that iron deposits have been found on Sheep river. I made a search last summer," said Professor Allen, "and found that there is no material there that can be classed as iron ore, though a report is still current that 2,000,000,000 tons of iron ore are exposed on the south fork."

A specimen of iron ore was shown to me by a well known Calgary man some time ago, he claiming that it had been collected by him on Sheep river. This specimen had the number 31 printed on it in white, and was a specimen that had been taken from an eastern mine and sent by the Dominion Geological Survey to different colleges, yet it was being peddled about here as iron ore from Sheep river. These are the kind of reports that I am constantly called upon, in my official capacity, to prove or disprove."

"One very good deposit of iron ochre of commercial quantity was discovered in the province last summer," said Professor Allen. "Also Bentonite clay, which was the principal constituent of gumbo, has been proven by the research department of the University of Alberta to be adapted to the manufacture of many products, including shaving soap. Beds of high grade Bentonite may yet prove an asset to the province."

Prof. Allen is now working on the second annual report of Alberta's resources. It will be ready for submission to the legislature in 10 days.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Irish secretary, has generally proved himself a match for the heckler. Soon after he began political work in England he was speaking on one occasion, and a man in the audience sung out: "Why do you wear American-made boots?"

"Well," replied the tailor, "if it hadn't been for an apple where would the clothing business be today?"

"These women!" replied the other, a newly married man. "They are queer cattle!"

"What's the matter?"

RED CROSS NEWS

Quite a number of people of the district gathered at the home of Mr. Estler on Wednesday, February 16th, at a farewell party given for his brother, who has since left for Saskatchewan, where he is farming. Everyone present had one of the most enjoyable evenings that they have spent this winter. Dancing was the chief feature of the occasion.

The baseball boys had a dance last Friday and everybody that was there report that it was the best time they have had this winter. The crowd was small but the music that was floating in the air was sure a grand treat. Everybody present could not be satisfied in the number of waltzes and one steps for they danced them over and over again until they had to stop, even the last waltz had to be played over twice. Great credit is due the Love-Rushfeldt orchestra and their music was sure appreciated. We hope the boys will put on another dance soon as we would like to have another good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clydt Journey, who have been living in town for several months past, during which time Mr. Journey worked in the Electric Light plant, returned to the country on Friday.

Miss Sadie Galbraith, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Calgary hospital last week, is improving very nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Middleton, who have been in Vancouver for several months, have left there and are en route home. On their way they will stop at Seattle and Portland and expect to reach Vulcan about the first of March.

The members of the Vulcan Church senior and juvenile choirs are busy these days practising for their concert to be held in the Opera House on Friday, March 4th. Keep the date open and do not fail to attend.

The special music at the evening services at the Vulcan Church on Sunday evening next will consist of the anthem, "God is My Strength and My Salvation"—H. P. Danks, by the choir and after the sermon a solo, "O Rest in the Lord"—Mendelssohn, will be sung by Mrs. Rolston.

An attempt is being made to get the School Fair under way fairly early this year. Trustees and teachers please note: Your presence is requested this Saturday, in the Primary School at 2.30 p.m. Last year the slogan "Leave it to George" prevailed. We want a little help from every one for 1921 and your presence this Saturday will materially aid in shaping plans for this year's school fair. Others interested please be on hand.

Miss Rose Porten, a late resident of Vulcan, but now of Calgary, underwent an operation for appendicitis a couple of weeks ago and the latest report is that she is improving.

Born, at the maternity hospital, Vulcan, on Monday, February 21st, to Mr. and Mrs. Laartz, a son.

The following horses will be sold absolutely without reserve at the Combination Sale at Rebbe's Auction Mart, on Saturday next, February 26th. 3 head of horses rising 2 years; 3 head horses rising 3 years; 1 bay mare rising 6 years; 1 saddle horse rising 7 years.

The boxing match held in the Opera House on Monday evening last was very well attended and some good boxing was witnessed in both the preliminaries and the main bout between Slippery Bud McKie and Cyclone Altiser resulted in a draw. A full report will be given next week.

William Caspell, of Cayley, will sell his entire outfit of horses and cattle, consisting of 40 head of draft horses from 1300 to 1700 lbs. each and from 4 to 8 years old. Also 50 head of stock cattle including 6 head of gentle milch cows, at his farm situate 3 miles west of Cayley, on Tuesday, March 8th.—Alex. Thompson, Auctioneer.

Don't forget the Band Concert at the Opera House on Sunday evening after Church Service.

POULTRY NEWS

The effort of the Poultry Association for the betterment of the poultry in the district is evidenced by the arrival in Vulcan this week of Mr. T. T. Clyde, a Dominion poultry representative who is inspecting flocks and calling where necessary, advising as to the mating of breeding pens, all with a view of making our district the best egg producing district in the Province. With that attained and better marketing facilities provided as is being arranged for now, the Poultry Association is to be congratulated on its work and the show of next year will be prepared for during the season ahead of us.

CURLING NOTES

On Wednesday of last week two rinks of curlers from Champion came up to Vulcan with blood in their eyes determined to take back with them the much coveted McNaughton Cup. The home rinks were equally determined that they should do no such thing, consequently the games that were played on this occasion were the best yet seen at the rink. Messrs. A. G. Spooner and J. Wolfe were the skips of the rinks defending the trophy but despite every effort put forth by them to win and retain the cup, the Champion bunch put it over them and took away what they came to get.

Chagrined over their loss, two rinks were again formed by the local roasters and they journeyed to Champion on Thursday to bring it back and place it in its proper position in one of the windows of A. G. Spooner's store, which looked bare without it and if not recovered would necessitate the re-dressing of the window and removal of the stand which the cup occupied and which had been erected at great expense and trouble by Mr. Jack Thompson, the head push of this up-to-the-minute store.

Play began immediately after the arrival of the Vulcan teams at the scene of hostilities and lasted all afternoon. The superior play of our boys, however, was too much for the Champion defenders and about 5.30 o'clock, Mr. Spooner phoned Mr. Thompson to leave the stand in the window as they were bringing the cup back with them once more after losing it for only 36 hours and it now rests in its old position where we hope it will remain for some time and thus prove the superiority of the proud possessors against all comers.

After the games were over the Vulcan rinks were entertained to a banquet by the Champion rinks and the good time extended them was greatly appreciated by all.

Following is the names of the winning rinks and the scores: W. E. Butchart, T. B. LeBow, J. Wolfe, W. Torgerson, skip, played rink skipped by J. Woodhull, score 7-21. R. Elves, G. Whicker, C. Hall, A. G. Spooner, skip, played rink skipped by Mr. Hummel, score 8-18.

VALENTINE PARTY

A Valentine party for the Junior Choir was held at the Manse last Wednesday, the Ladies' Aid being hostesses. Thirty-five children took off their rubbers at the door about four-thirty and for the next two or three hours came in for entertainment of an order that appealed to the children. An upstairs room was cleared for the occasion and there games were played. The living room was tastefully decorated and with the tables spread with ambrosia and nectar one would need a society editor to give description. There were two sittings. Those who accidentally missed the first, obtained a place later, on and as
